make an informed choice

Lawyers aren't simply interchangeable and law firms even less so. Organisation, experience, type of clientele.... Putting your faith in the wrong one can have serious consequences and/or prove to be a costly business.

Allow us to explain why our firm has been providing a service that has been greatly appreciated since 2008. Below, we will give you 10 points Lijnrecht consistently scores well in and is particularly good at.

Discover the 10 pluses
that support and guide us here.

1

An ISO quality label since 2008

Lijnrecht has held an ISO quality label, awarded by LRQA, since 2008 and this for three points, i.e.:

- Litigation
- The hosting of seminars
- Legal advice

An ISO quality label is an extremely important and highly objective quality guarantee!

2

Lijnrecht's glowing reviews

Lijnrecht prides itself on its professionalism and client friendliness. This is reflected in the reviews from the clients we advised or defended in court.

Is there anything more convincing or objective than high scores and countless positive reviews?

See for yourself! Take a look at the Google reviews and our ratings on our website www.lijrecht.be under the section "Clients recount" or read their testimonials on Trustlocal via Trustlocal.be (enter "lawyer" and "Tongeren" in the search bar). You will probably have a friend or acquaintance who will tell you the same.

Convenient opening hours

Client friendliness starts with accessibility. One of the objective indicators are convenient opening hours. Every client can contact Lijnrecht on working days from 07:00 until 19:00, including on Saturday mornings. We are permanently manned by legal and administrative staff. Travail analytique poussé et une approche structurée

Analytically strong and a structured approach

A robust analysis will often go a long way towards solving a problem. Lijnrecht always provides you with a strong and in-depth analysis and distils any problem to the essence. We also adopt a highly structured approach by subdividing every problem into subproblems. This strategy not only creates clarity for our clients, but also for the judges, opponents and anyone who has any involvement in the problem.

Procedural economy is second nature

Litigation costs time and money. We do this as pragmatically and efficiently as possible and continuously assess whether the file is dealt with as cost-effectively as possible for the client. If it turns out that further investigation or litigation will prove to be more costly than the maximum that can be gained from the case, we will always honestly advise the client against further action. After all, our objective is not to land more cases or files but to strive for maximum client satisfaction. Our clientele can rely on us to look at their file in this broader perspective.

Maximum digitization for greater efficiency

Lijnrecht has been working paperless for years. Each file is digitized and can be accessed by all our staff from anywhere. This modus operandi reduces costs, boosts file throughput and maximises your chances of success.

No theoretical, but pragmatic and clear advice

Whenever a theoretical or academic approach is required, we translate any legalese into plain language and stick to the essence. Here too, we look at the problem through our client's eyes and come up with a pragmatic opinion or procedural document everyone can understand. It goes without saying that, behind the (digital) scenes, Lijnrecht does its own professional research into the legislation, case law and legal doctrine.

Every 'major' file is followed up by 2 lawyers

Complex cases are always assigned to 2 lawyers. That way, you have 4 eyes looking at the problem and you get to reap the benefit of the experience of two lawyers and maximum continuity. It also ensures that your file is dealt with and followed up in a qualitative manner at all times.

Above all, Lijnrecht stands for a creative, original, and contemporary interpretation of the concept "advocacy".

The international angle

Lijn*recht* is affiliated to AEA, the largest international network of lawyers numbering some 8,000 members across 141 countries. In any transnational issue, we have instant access to numerous foreign helplines and, hence, to optimum international support.

10

Maximum peace of mind and detailed communication

In any file, Lijn*recht* makes it a point of honour to free you of worry. We are always happy to take the next step in any procedure you prefer not to pursue on your own in your name and on your behalf. Lijn*recht* will keep you up to speed every step of the way and show you every procedural document before it is lodged with the court.

“Happy are those who dare courageously to defend what they love.”

Ovid
(Roman poet)

Of course you will courageously defend what you love. What you love, what is yours, what you value. A good lawyer can be of paramount importance here.

Lijnrecht fervently defends your interests on the basis of the 10 principles and pluses outlined in this leaflet. Professionally, with zeal, and always constructively.

With our passionate and dedicated team of some 30 highly committed members of staff we specialise in virtually all legal fields. Want to know which ones? Contact us or visit our website for further details.
